Genealogical Research Using Local Repositories

Do you want to learn about your ancestors but don't know where to begin? The Beacon Historical Society, the Dutchess County Genealogical Society, and the Howland Public Library will present a program entitled "Genealogical Research Using Local Repositories." Discover what the local history collections at the Mid-Hudson and Howland Public libraries and the Beacon Historical Society has to offer. Learn about nearby archive day trips, as well as "know before you go"--advance research to maximize your library and archive visits.

Why not make a day of it in beautiful Beacon?

- Stop and have lunch at the local eateries
- Visit the Beacon Historical Society at 17 South Avenue from 1-3pm.
- Later that evening, join the Society for the Murder and MAYhem historical walking tour.
